MODEST POSTMASTER BARS SHEATH GOWNS

Ocean Park, Calif., Aug. 20.—No mail will be handed out at the Ocean Park postoffice to any woman unless her skirt reaches at least to the ankles and her sleeves to the elbows. She must also wear at least one petticoat, an average supply of lingerie and various articles constituting the complete female toilet.

Whoever appears with less than the conventional amount of clothes, whoever expects to get his or her mail dressed in the one thickness, or thinness, of a bathing suit only, will be handed a lemon instead of a letter. Such is the edict issued by Postmaster Stillson, and he declares he will enforce it, too. The less clothes, the less mail, is the motto of the beach postoffice.

The postmaster wants to save his young lady clerks from the shocks experienced almost continually during the last few warm days of seeing replicas of the famous statue of Apollo appear before their startled eyes, clad in an expansive smile and a loin cloth supported and held in place by a kind of a shoulder strap though some of them hide their skin under an exceedingly becoming layer of sunburn.

As for the ladies in bathing suits, some of them looked pretty enough to arouse the ire of the fluffly dressed female patrons of the postoffice. Some of them, only, however. It was considered an act of kindness to restore corsets and other stays to the majority of the wearers of skirted bathing suits.

Beware of the stranger who displays a friendly interest in you; the chances are he has an ax to grind.

If you are all run down Foley's Kidney Remedy will help you. It strengthens the kidneys so they will eliminate the impurities from the blood that depress the nerves, and cause exhaustion, backache, rheumatism and urinary irregularities, which sap the vitality. Do not delay. Take Foley's Kidney Remedy at once. O. G. Schaefer and Red Cross Drug Co.
